Hedge Funds Have Historically Performed Better in Higher Rate Environments

Hedge Funds are represented by the HFRI Fund Weighted Composite Index, HFRI Equity Hedge Index, HFRI Macro Index, HFRI Event Driven Index and HFRI RV: Fixed Income Corporate Index. For illustrative purposes only. Past performance is not indicative of future results. The indices used herein are presented for illustrative purposes only. The performance of the indices shown may be made up of funds that have investment characteristics and risk/return profiles that differ materially from IDHF, and an investment in IDHF is not comparable to an investment in such index or in the securities that comprise the index.

Diversification with Hedge Funds

An allocation to hedge funds, specifically a global differentiated multi-strategy fund, may improve the overall risk/return profile of a portfolio by providing broad exposure across asset classes, sectors, and geographies. These funds typically have an absolute return focus and low correlation to traditional markets, making them a potentially attractive complement to a client’s stock and bond investments.

Standard Deviation: A measure of volatility that is often used as a proxy for risk. A volatile fund or security has a higher standard deviation, while the deviation of a more stable investment is lower. Standard deviation calculates all upside and downside volatility equally, including returns above the average, or mean. Non-traded investments are not valued as frequently as traded markets, which impacts volatility measures. Additionally, there are significant liquidity difference between public and private equities, as public equities can provide liquidity and greater access to company information and private equities have a longer time horizon and are considered illiquid.

- The Adviser has contractually entered into an "Expense Limitation and Reimbursement Agreement" with the Fund to limit until one year from the date of this prospectus (the "Limitation Period") the amount of "Specified Expenses" (as described herein) borne by the Fund in respect of Class A Shares and Class I Shares during the Limitation Period to an amount not to exceed 0.40% per annum of the Fund's net assets attributable to such Class. "Specified Expenses" is defined to include all expenses incurred in the business of the Fund, provided that the following expenses are excluded from the definition of Specified Expenses: (i) the Management Fee, Distribution and Servicing Fees and portfolio fund expenses (i.e., acquired fund fees and expenses, including contribution requirements for investments, expenses and management fees); (ii) other investment-related expenses of the Fund; (iii) taxes; and (iv) litigation and other extraordinary expenses (as defined herein). The Adviser may extend the Limitation Period for the Fund on an annual basis. To the extent that Specified Expenses in respect of any Class of Shares for any month exceed the Expense Cap applicable to a Class of Shares, the Adviser will reimburse the Fund for expenses to the extent necessary to eliminate such excess. To the extent that the Adviser bears Specified Expenses in respect of a Class of Shares, it is permitted to receive reimbursement for any expense amounts previously paid or borne by the Adviser, for a period not to exceed three years from the date on which such expenses were paid or borne by the Adviser, even if such reimbursement occurs after the termination of the Limitation Period, provided that the Specified Expenses in respect of the applicable Class of Shares have fallen to a level below the Expense Cap and the reimbursement amount does not raise the level of Specified Expenses in respect of a Class of Shares in the month the reimbursement is being made to a level that exceeds the Expense Cap at the time of such reimbursement or the Expense Cap in place at the time the expense amounts were previously paid or borne by the Adviser (whichever is lower). This contractual arrangement will remain in effect for at least one year from the effective date of the Fund's registration statement on Form N-2 unless the Fund's Board of Managers approves its earlier termination.
- Acquired Fund Fees and Expenses ("AFFE") refer to the fees and expenses borne indirectly by the Fund. These fees are not collected by or paid to the Adviser or the Fund but are paid to the Portfolio Fund Managers to the Portfolio Funds in which the Fund invests. AFFE is predominantly investment related expenses of each Portfolio Fund and includes costs associated with implementing the trading strategies of the Portfolio Funds, including items such as interest expense, dividend expense, and stock-borrow costs. Additionally, AFFE includes (i) performance-based fees or allocations paid or allocated by each Portfolio Fund to the associated Portfolio Fund Manager, (ii) management fees charged by each Portfolio Fund and payable to the associated Portfolio Fund Manager, and (iii) various additional operating expenses of each Portfolio Fund. AFFE may fluctuate over time and may be substantially higher or lower with respect to future periods. AFFE is reflected in the net performance reported by Portfolio Funds to the Fund.

Such indices may not be available for direct investment, may be unmanaged, assume reinvestment of income, do not reflect the impact of any trading commissions and costs, management or performance fees, and have limitations when used for comparison or other purposes because they, among other reasons, may have different trading strategy, volatility, credit or other material characteristics. In addition, the indices employ different investment guidelines and criteria than iDHF and do not necessarily employ leverage.
